

Sirs:

Competition in this market space allows me the option of choosing from multiple providers instead of a single provider, offering a single product.

Under the current rules, pricing is provided through a 3rd party, offering a fair price to everybody.

Under the ruling requested by BellSouth they could arbitrary raise their rates and prevent other parties from entering the market, or simple use their powers to squeeze out companies they don't they don't like.